FIG. 20 is a perspective view of a multi-layered structure. It features three rectangular blocks, each labeled 62, which are positioned on a base layer 59. The blocks are separated by dashed lines 80 and 91, indicating they are part of a larger, segmented structure. A horizontal layer 95 is positioned above the blocks, connecting them. The entire assembly is supported by a base 50, which has a side wall 52. The structure is shown in a perspective view, highlighting its three-dimensional nature.
